

Timeline →

- Complaint Filed
- Case Commenced
- Response Period
- Panelist Deliberations
- Decision Issued

REVERA

Domain Disputes: UDRP Overview

What is UDRP proceeding?

UDRP proceeding is an out-of-court procedure that allows trademark owners to combat the abusive registration and use of domain names that incorporate their trademarks.

Which domain names fall under the scope of UDRP?

UDRP applies to generic top-level domains (gTLDs), such as .com, .net, .org, .net and certain country-code domains (ccTLDs) that have adopted the policy, such as .cy, .cc, .pk.

Submit

What decisions can be rendered?

- Cancellation of Domain Registration —
- Domain Transfer —
- Complaint Denial —

How long does the UDRP case take?

On average, UDRP case takes between 1 to 2 months from the complaint filing to the issuance of a decision.

.com

How much does UDRP procedure cost?

The filing fees vary depending on the dispute resolution service provider. However, on average, they range from 800 to 2,000 USD for a proceeding handled by a single panelist.

Enter the void

Our expertise in numbers

- over 30 won UDRP cases in last 3 years
- over 10 won consolidated UDRP cases
- 90% Success rate in last 5 years

Is it possible to file a UDRP complaint against multiple domain names?

Yes, a UDRP complaint can include multiple domain names (consolidation), as long as they are registered by the same person/entity or there are evidences of common control.

Is legal assistance required for UDRP case?

No, legal representation isn't required for a UDRP case. However, since the UDRP process involves complex legal issues and requires well-supported arguments, proceeding without legal expertise can significantly reduce the chances of success.

Our Team

Kamal Tserakhau
k.tserakhau@revera.legal

Aleksandr Struzhko
a.struzhko@revera.legal

Kristina Voinilovich
k.vainilovich@revera.legal